

A program in partnership with AITSL and the Innovation Unit (UK) to foster learning approaches to increase student engagement.

The brief.

Education Changemakers was approached by AITSL to join a program in partnership with the Innovation Unit to support Australian schools to innovate new learning approaches to increase student engagement.

What we did.

In partnership with AITSL, we launched a series of innovation IDEAlabs across Australia. At these workshops, invited schools were supported to identify a problem of practice, and then moved through our innovation approach (detailed in our book Edupreneur) to create new ideas, prototype and test them in schools and continually improve their concepts. EC strategised the program approach as part of a three-way collaboration with AITSL and the Innovation Unit (UK).

of participants pivoted their initiatives between workshops after testing.

students impacted by new learning approaches at participating schools.
